SECOND NATIONAL BANK At ten o'clock Saturday morning the court ordered a venire for a new Grand Jury, which lury was summoned, empannelled, Besignated Depository for all Public sworn and charged. This being the only Topular Loan now before the Reople, the Bank will beep on hard a full assert-ment of sizes, and fin all orders promptly and with-est delve. In the case of the State us, Zada Griffith, defendant was arraigned and plead guilty. TARRY IN HIS OWN DEVICES .- We noticed the time, some two weeks since, the arest of Jacob Miller, on a telegram from Mondville, charging him with the steeling of a trunk at the latter place from the boarding house of a man named G iffith. He came to this city and left said trunk at one of the hotels on River street. This was found full of clothing, and was seized by the police authorities, who quickly ferreted out the thief and lodged him in the city prison. He was bound over, and shut up in the county jail. About the time his trial was to come off, the man who sent the telegram, leorge La Platte, se he signed his name, eams on here from Meadville, and craved an interview with the thief. In the conversation which ensued, the sheriff was struck by what seemed an inconsistency, as if there were a mutual good understanding between the parties. He had more occaion afterwards to think of this, however, then at the time. This La Pratt was of course the principal witness for the prosecution, but he had not gone further than the answer to the first question than the Presecuting Attorney became convinced that there had been collusion between him and the defendant. The trial proceeded, and Miller was convicted. La Pratt was narrowly watched. Suspicions were entertained that he was in complicity with Miller. He had sent here three dispatches, the first signed George La Pratt, Liberty, her face at once sad, hopeful and nd the others George F. and George S. Pratt, respectively. He returned to Meadville after he had given in his ambiguous, perjured testimony, but hearing of Miller's eviction he hastened to this city and claimed the trunk and contents. The police, however, nabbed him and said be might stay awhile. This was done on the representation of Miller, that Pratt was iling under false colors; that his true have here semething a little more than name was Zade Griffith, and not Pratt, and that they together had stolen the trunk and goods at Corry, Pa., or that they held tha goods which had been stolen by two or three other men of their gang. Griffith saw the FRAGRANT.—The mown grass on the Park fix he was in, and, when arraigned on Saturday last, plead guilty and made merry great distance yesterday. A very large of the whole affair. He said there were three more of them, and that he would do all he could to secure their apprehension and conviction, that the whole crow might go together to the Penitentiary. It seems that Miller ran away with this trunk, half the contents of which belonged to Griffith, and the latter had him arrested on the broad charge of grand larceny. His partner once arrested, he sought the interview to become reconciled unto him, and then did his best, by false testimony as to the value of the stolen articles, to get the indictment reduced from grand to petit farceny, that Miller might escape the State Prison. But the crafty chap was taken in his own devices. It is stated that these two fellows have been in the rebel service nearly four years, and are natives of Harrison county, Virginis, and that the father of one of them, Miller, we believe, was recently shot there as a guerrilla. Miller boars the marks of a gunshot wound through his throat. It has just healed. Both are hard looking customers. Miller being little above the status of the brutes, and Griffith adding to his quad-ruped estate a certain degree of intelligence and a great deal of pure deviltry. ACADEMY OF MUSIC .- One of the best souses of the sesson witnessed the excellent performance of "Othello" at the Acadmy last Saturday evening, on the occasion of the benefit of Mr. Pope and the f rewell appearance of that fine actor and Madame Scheller. Mr. Pope's "Othello" was admirable, and inspired higher expressions of preise than his "Hamlet," even. Mad of the Board of Trade was submitted at the session of the Board on Saturday, read, and ame Scheller personated "Desdemona" with n part adopted. Owing to its length, all so much sweetness and held so close to Nature, that the stage feded out of sight, the sections could not be passed upon at and the representation appeared the veri-A circular-letter from the Detroit Board

Michael Murray, a bold ruffian, bounty jumper, &c., was one of the parties, and a boy thirteen per from Portage Lake, 100 gross tons iron or fourteen years old, a street boot black, ore, 400 packages fish from Sault, and some was another, while policeman Lawrence miscellaneous freight, and 100 passengers. The Meleor leaves Garretson & Co.'s dock and a hundred or two people were the "third catate." The boy, whose name we for La P into and Bayfield and intermedicould not learn, tells the following story, ate ports, this (Monday) evening, at eight as given us by the policenma and soveral other gentlemen who witnessed the finale of the scene: considerable merit of design has been ex-

About three o'clock in the afternoon a man appeared on Superior street, near the American House, well dressed, but with boots somewhat too dusty as said nameless youth thought. The boy approached him acter-fair above, foul below. As central and asked the question usual with gamina of his profession,"Have your boots blacked, even-handed Justice, a woman with bound sir?" The man essented, and when the operation was finished, the boy put himelf in the attitude of one who expects ney ance. On her right is a group of angelic for his work. As Murray made no sign of handing out the scrip, the boy naked for it, whereupon the brute toppled him over and kicked him, and then passed through the aliey toward Davis' Livery stable. defenders, at the base of which sits a sol-

The boy summoned policeman Lawrence, who found a large crowd of people gathered at the head of the alloy, all greatly excited d sympathizing with the gamin

When Murray saw the policeman making for him, he walked off and presently began running down the bank in the direction of the canal, a crowd, increasing at every step, headed by the policeman, as his heels. Passing over the canal bridge, he ran up the tow-path, but was so closely followed by Mr. L. that he turned and picked up a stone so heavy that he could not throw it more than a rod. This he pitched at his enemy, who dodged it, and gave fresh pursuit. Running a few rods further, and fearing he would get a blow over his head, hoursy again wheeled, picked up a stone and struck Mr. L. on the breast with it. He was staggered somewhat, but rallied and gave chase again. Murray soon stumbled and fell face downwards at the edge of the canal. The policems jumped on his back and secured his victim. He fought floresly, however, and it was not until a hard tussle and aid had arrived, that this formidable ruffian was dumped into an express wagon and taken to the City Prison.

This man Murray was cometime ago arrested for grand larceny; but the matter was souled on condition he would clear out and go into the army. This he promised to do, and enlisted, but jumped the county. He will be tried this morning in the Police Court, on the double charge of assult and buttery and resisting an officer.

The second game was between Messra Griffey and Frawley, the game being one of 42 innings, in an hour and 15 minutes. Mr. Griffey was beaten by 25 points.

The fourteenth game was contested by Masera. Broga and Frawley, resulting in favor of the first-named player by a score of 300 to 281. This was a closely contested game and the winner was hailed with con-tinued appliance. Mr. Broga's highest run was 65, and Mr. Frawley's 38. Time, 1 hour and 35 minutes. Referee, Mr. Cy-relie Dion, of Montreal. Twenty-four games of the whole number (twenty-eight) were played up to last even ing. The grand score now stands : Lost, Frawley.....

Thus it will be perceived that, should Mr. Frawley win both his remaining games, there will be a tie between him and the winner of the game to be played between Mesers. Cheale and Ackerman. The chances are that a tie will need to be unraveled to scide the contest for the championship. To Lake Carraiss,-The Commissioners
